ONE IS INJURED IN CROSSING SMASHUP

Otto A. Ernest, of Indianapolis, Formerly of Medora, Sustains Wrenched Shoulder.

AUTOMOBILE HIT BY ENGINE

Three Other Indianapolis Men Escape Injury—Party Had Attended—Matlock Funeral.

In a collision between an automobile and a cut of cars on the Southeastern Line at the Ewing street crossing late Wednesday afternoon, Otto A. Ernest, formerly of Medora, sustained a wrenched shoulder and John Mann, Edward Mann, his brother, and Robert Long, other occupants in the machine, narrowly escaped injury. All of the men are living in Indianapolis and were returning after attending the funeral of the late Joel H. Matlock. The car was so badly damaged that it could not be driven back until repairs are made. The members of the party returned home on an interurban car Wednesday night.

The escape of the men from serious accident, and possibly death, was miraculous. The car was driven by John Mann and was traveling north on Ewing street. Just as the machine approached the Southeastern Line crossing the driver saw a cut of cars being pushed east by an engine. He realized that it would be impossible to cross the tracks before the cars reached the crossing and in an effort to avoid a collision steered the machine west between the track and the green house of M. A. Barick. There was little room there but the railroad cars passed the machine without hitting it.

The tender, however, smashed into the right side of the automobile and pushed it backwards into Ewing street. The right front wheel was demolished, the fender and lamp on the right side were demolished but it is not believed that the engine was much damaged. The machine was taken in charge by Stewart's Garage where the repairs will be made and the broken parts replaced.

Mr. Ernest's injuries were painful and for a short time it was thought that his right shoulder was broken or dislocated. However, it was only wrenched and bruised and he was able to return to Indianapolis with the other members of the party. He said that when the tender collided with the machine he started to jump and was thrown to the ground. All the other men remained in the car. John Mann and Mr. Long were riding in the front seat and Ed Mann and Mr. Ernest occupied the rear seat.

As soon as the accident occurred the engineer stopped the engine and with other members of the crew investigated. It is said that the signal bell at the crossing did not ring when the engine and cars approached the crossing and the members of the automobile party are reported to have secured the names of several witnesses who saw the collision. The driver of the machine said he was not acquainted with the location of the tracks and as no signal or warning was given he was not aware of the danger until within a few feet of the

HUGH T. MILLER IN SENATORIAL RACE

Former Lieutenant-Governor Announces Candidacy for Nomination on Republican Ticket.

ON PLATFORM OF EQUALITY

In Statement Columbus Man Says He Will Work for Efficiency in Public Business.

By United Press. Indianapolis, October 21.—Hugh T. Miller, of Columbus, today formally announced that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator. Miller was the unsuccessful candidate in 1914.

Miller's entrance increases the list of Republican candidates to five, including James E. Watson, of Rushville, W. L. Olds, of Ft. Wayne, W. L. Taylor and Arthur Robertson, of Indianapolis, and Miller. Charles A. Bookwalter, of Indianapolis, has said he will enter the race. Edward H. Schmidt, of Indianapolis will be Miller's campaign manager. Miller has served in the legislature and was once lieutenant-governor.

Mr. Miller today issued the following statement:

"As in 1914, I want to go to the voters with the fundamental principles of republicanism—patriotism and equal rights, a devotion to the welfare of the republic that will conserve and defend it, whether from domestic foes, as in the sixties, or from future foreign assault; a devotion to the welfare of all Americans that frees the slave, protects the farmer, mechanic and manufacturer against unfair competition from abroad and removes inequalities and injustice from the path of the voters, the taxpayers, the workingmen, the business men, the women and children of America.

"Guided by these primal principles of patriotism and equal rights, I want to be one of a Republican majority in congress which will continue the fight against inequality and injustice, which will restore prosperity, abolish sectionalism, curb extravagance and promote efficiency in business and in government. I want those who expect to support me to send to me at Columbus their suggestions and any information that will promote my candidacy."

TOO MUCH SPENDING MONEY HINDRANCE TO YOUNG BOYS

The Rev. Fred R. Davies Tells High School Students to Work Towards Their Vision.

Too much spending money is detrimental to high school boys, said the Rev. Fred R. Davies in an address before the Shields High School students Wednesday afternoon. He spoke on "Needs vs. Wants." He admonished the students to work for their vision or ideal and to be prepared for the work of life. He said they might want plenty of spending money but that they would later learn that foolish spending is a bad practice.

The minister told the pupils that they ought to be well balanced, and give attention to the spiritual side of life as well as to the mental and physical.

Veteran Engineer Placed On B. & O. S-W. Pension Roll

After piloting an engine over the old O. & M. and Baltimore & Ohio Railroad for more than forty-three years, Mel Boone, one of the oldest engineers from point of service in the employ of the company, has been placed on the pension roll. Mr. Boone was notified this week that he was entitled to retire from active service and hereafter would receive the pension which was provided several years ago by the B. & O. S-W. Company.

For fifteen years Mr. Boone has been engineer on a yard engine here, but before that time made the regular "runs" over the Indiana division. During his term of service, covering almost half a century, he has been in but two wrecks and neither was because of any fault of his. The second occurred during the McKinley flood near the Two Mile Wood east of the city. Like the first one the collision was head-on. In the second Mr. Boone was slightly injured but was able to return to work six weeks later.

Mr. Boone was born in Madison October 12, 1851 and entered his railroad career with the Big Four at the age of seventeen. For two years he was employed as a fireman, but was promoted to engineer in 1870. The two years following were spent in the Big Four service. When he began railroad wood burners were used and during his period of service he has seen the great advancement which has taken place in railroading.

He took a position as engineer with the old O. & M., now the B. & O. S-W. railroad, in 1872 and two years later moved to this city from Lawrenceburg. Since that date until the present he has lived here continuously with the exception of one year spent at Lawrenceburg. He is popular with the employees of the B. & O. S-W. and they regret that he is to retire from active work but they congratulate him upon the excellent record that he had made and the reward that will come from the pension arrangement.

COMMISSIONERS TO RECEIVE NEW ROAD

Jackson and Bartholomew County Officials Inspect the Kirkwood Highway.

EXPENSE EQUALLY DIVIDED

Number of the New Bridges Ordered Built at the Last Session Have Been Completed.

The commissioners of Jackson and Bartholomew counties met today to inspect and receive the Kirkwood road, a boundary highway between the two counties which was recently improved with gravel and rock. The entire road is about three and one-half miles long and the contract for its improvement was awarded in two sections. The first section was completed several weeks ago and was accepted. The second section has just been finished and has not yet been opened to public travel.

The road has been regraded and in the low places rock was used. It is believed that the drainage is also improved and that the highway will withstand the heavy traffic over it for years. The road joins the Jonesville road at the point where the latter is being straightened, north of Peter's Switch.

The inspection was made by all the commissioners of Jackson county. J. W. Tormohlen and Matt Fleetwood came here today and were met by Sherman Hall, of Crothersville. County Auditor Luedtke accompanied them. They made the trip in County Clerk Willard Stout's automobile.

The commissioners have considerable work to look after between this time and the first Monday in November when the regular meeting will be held. At the last meeting contracts for a number of bridges were awarded and some of the structures have already been completed. The commissioners have personally inspected

GRAND JURY ROOM IS BUSY PLACE

Large Number of Witnesses Called Before Body Today—Evidence is Not Divulged.

COURT ADJOURNS AT NOON

Three Divorces Granted by Court and Four Other Similar Cases Are Dismissed.

The grand jury was the center of attention at the court house today. A large number of witnesses were subpoenaed to appear before that body and all of them were anxious to be called so they could return home at the earliest possible moment. Nothing was given out as to the nature of the investigation before the grand jury. None of the witnesses discussed the evidence given behind the closed doors and no announcement of the alleged violation is made until an indictment is returned and the arrest is made.

The grand jury meets but once a year in this county and usually the sessions are busy. It is probable that the grand jury will be in session during next week. It is stated that a number of witnesses are yet to be examined.

Court adjourned at noon today as Judge Swails and many of the attorneys desired to attend the funeral of the late J. T. Barnes, father of Seba A. Barnes, in this city.

Before adjournment was taken, however, three divorces were granted. Henry Toppe was granted a divorce from Sarilda Toppe. The latter is living in Indianapolis. The amount of the alimony granted was agreed upon out of court. Decrees were also granted in the cases of Amy M. Beatty against August Beatty and John M. Rich vs. Waneita Rich.

Four divorce cases were dismissed as follows: Morton C. Griffin vs. Lola

GERMAN OFFICIAL SPEAKS OF FUTURE

Says Kaiser will "Really Begin to Fight the British" Within Two Months.

NEEDED SUPPLIES IN TURKEY

Entrance Through Serbia to Bulgaria Will be Highly Important, Says the Official.

(By Carl W. Ackerman, United Press Staff Correspondent).

Berlin, October 21.—Within two months Germany will "really begin to fight the British," a high official of the kaiser's foreign office told me today.

It was on the success of the Teutonic-Balkan campaign with the opening of a source of admittedly much needed supplies that he was counting when he spoke.

"In five more weeks," he said, "a way will be opened through Serbia to Bulgaria and Turkey where great quantities of food and raw materials are stored. Within two months we will have all the Anatolian cotton and wool we require so that we will not need American supplies. When we have established communication with Bulgaria and Turkey the war with England will really begin.

"We have enough of France and Russia already to guarantee satisfactory peace terms with them. Our success in the Balkans will mean the menacing of the British empire. Once the way through the Balkans is opened we will strike at the Suez Canal and Egypt.

MORE BIG GUNS WILL PROTECT PACIFIC COAST

Plans Include Stronger Fortifications at San Pedro and San Francisco.

By United Press.

Washington, October 21.—Pacific coast army forts will blossom with big guns according to plans in the national defense program official announced today. Installation of many big fourteen-inch and the new sixteen-inch guns in the Pacific forts is planned. Included in the plan are strong fortifications at San Pedro, addition of sixteen inch guns at the San Francisco fortifications and placing of big gun batteries at the Puget Sound outer fortifications—all to be completed in four years.

THREE AMERICANS KILLED IN BATTLE

Mexicans in Carranzista Uniforms Attack Town of Ojo De Agua, Texas, Today.

REENFORCEMENT ARE RUSHED

Charge on American Town Occurs Within 24 Hours After Carranza is Recognized.

By United Press.

Brownsville, Texas, Oct. 21.—Less than twenty-four hours after Carranza was formally recognized as Mexico's chief executive more than one hundred of his countrymen, many attired in Carranzista uniforms, attacked the town of Ojo De Agua, Texas, today sixty miles north of here, killing three American soldiers and wounding six.

The dead are: Sergeant Schaffer and Privates McConnell and Joyce. The wounded includes Sergeant Smith and Corporal Cansler and Troopers Kubley, Bohner, Behr and Langland.

Reinforcements were rushed to the town.

The attack occurred at about two o'clock this morning. The Mexicans had completely surrounded the village when the attack began. The official report to officers at Ft. Brown says the attacking party was well organized and answered to bugle calls. The American outposts discovered the movements of the Mexicans and gave the alarm.

Fifteen American soldiers, eight armed with rifles and seven with revolvers only went into action against the hundred Mexicans and whipped them.

The Mexicans fled after a sharp exchange at almost point blank range, leaving five of their number dead and one wounded. Over half of the defending force had been put out of action. The dead and wounded Mexicans were dressed in Carranzista uniforms to the last detail. Captain Scott lead the party of reinforcements and pursued the Mexicans through the brush to the river.

After the Mexicans had crossed to the other side they opened fire and volleys were exchanged for several minutes without any casualties.

400,000 BRITISH TROOPS TO REENFORCE THE SERBS

Decision to Send Troops Immediately Reached at Conference This Week.

By United Press.

London, October 21.—At least 400,000 British and French troops will be sent to the Balkans to help the Serbians and to invade Turkey and Bulgaria, it was learned on reliable authority today.

The decision was said to have been reached at the conference this week between the French war minister and the British cabinet's military committee.

History of Rebekah Lodge No. 667

By Mrs. Lara M. Baird.

About 8:30 p. m., April 9th, 1904, W. H. Leedy, Grand Secretary I. O. O. F., acting as Grand Master, called to order a number of visiting brothers and sisters from Crothersville, Milan, Columbus, Brownstown and Austin, together with the following named charter members, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bretthauer, Mr. and Mrs. George Dahlenburg, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bretthauer, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Naylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Graham, John Klein and George A. Clark, who had assembled for the purpose of instituting a Rebekah Lodge to be known as Seymour Rebekah Lodge No. 667.

The officers and degree staff of Minnie Lodge No. 125 of Crothersville were present and conferred the degree on one hundred and twenty-five candidates in a most efficient and commendable manner, the ritualistic charges being especially well given, Mr. C. E. Abel and Miss Barbara Laugel being selected to take the work, the others all being duly obligated.

The following officers were duly elected and installed for the remainder of the year:

N. G.—Maud Dahlenburg.
V. G.—Lula Graham.
Rec. Sec.—J. E. Graham.
Fin. Sec.—Anna Massman.
Treas.—Mrs. A. D. Eldridge.
Warden—Lizzie Bretthauer.
Cond.—Ora Jones.
I. G.—H. C. Bretthauer.
O. G.—C. A. Naylor.
R. S. N. G.—Geo. A. Clark.
L. S. N. G.—Barbara Laugel.
R. S. V. G.—Sarah Marsh.
L. S. V. G.—Emma Alves.
Chap.—Kittie Bretthauer.

The business of the lodge being concluded, the members and their guests were called from labor to refreshments. In this quite awhile was spent in a social way, all enjoying hugely the ice cream, cake and coffee previously prepared by the entertaining committees. On May 26th, 1904, another class of fifty was initiated into the mysteries of the order, the degree staff of Columbus conferring the work in a most beautiful manner. Immediately after, the local lodge organized a degree staff, and today under our very worthy and competent degree captain, H. C. Bretthauer. They are considered one of the best in southern Indiana, and have responded to invitations from Columbus, Bedford, Brownstown and other places to exemplify the ritualistic work, always being highly complimented. The tenets of our order admonish us to visit the sick, relieve the distressed and bury the dead. Our motto is to live peaceably, to do good unto all as we have opportunity and especially to obey the Golden Rule, "Whatsoever ye would that others should do unto you, do ye even so unto them." A report is kept and filed every six months as to the number of sick calls and flowers sent to those members reported sick, usually averaging from one hundred to two hundred calls, and to those having had the experience, we find ourselves eagerly looking forward to a visit from some sister who calls to help lighten one's sorrow. We are especially proud of the work being done in Indiana in the maintenance of the I. O. O. F. Home at Greensburg. No higher eulogy could be paid Odd Fellowship than that grand and magnificent structure, erected at an enormous cost and maintained by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Indiana in furnishing a home for aged brothers and sisters, and for the orphans, where they are educated and made better men and women of the world for having had the privilege and comforts accorded them in this great and glorious institution. This alone should be an incentive to make every Odd Fellow and Rebekah in the state stronger in their faith and proud to be classed as a member of the order. Our local lodge is divided into twelve sections, each section having charge of the social evening of one month during the year. Many unique and novel entertainments have been given in the way of literary and musical programs, playlets, etc. One anniversary is annually observed in some fitting way either with initiatory work by one lodge, or some sister Rebekah lodge in the district, or an interesting play, always followed with a banquet. We meet the second and fourth Thursday nights in the month, when all visiting Rebekahs are always accorded a hearty welcome. The present Noble Grand is Eula Routt. The past Noble Grand is Maude Dahlenburg, Lara M. Baird, Lizzie Bretthauer, Maggie Heuser (Findley), Pearl DeGolyer, Ella Davison, Lenore Swails, Kittie Bretthauer, Kate Shepard, Edith Kasperlain, Laura White, Mary Wilson, Myrtal Morton, (Niehaus), Erma Hancock, Sadie G. Financially and socially speaking, Seymour Rebekah Lodge No. 667 is in a very flourishing and prosperous condition, and has done much in charitable work.

MARGARET MASON'S FASHION LETTER

(Written for the United Press.)

New York, Oct. 21.—Miss New York certainly ought to know how to dress and where and when with all the divers fashion shows going on for her benefit these last two weeks.

Mrs. Belle Armstrong Whitney started the fashionable ball rolling with her show at the Cohan theatre and left Miss and also Mr. New York gasping at her display of beautiful model frocks and frills on even more beautiful living models.

She has now moved on to give Miss Philadelphia, Miss Boston, Miss Washington, Miss Chicago and all the other American Misses a chance to see what's what in the fashion line.

Then Whatamaker's and Gimbel's gave their Fashion Promenades and the big fashion show for the benefit of the Actor's fund at Carnegie Hall added new tips and much zest with the confections shown to advantage on real live actress models.

May Irwin, Marie Dressler and Trixie Friganza were there of course, but being perfect fifty-sixes they contented themselves and the public by being dainty little program sellers nor aspired to join the living model class.

Last but not least came Lucile's select opening. None of the common herd were admitted to this most exclusive of fashion shows. No two-dollar theatre ticket even could pry the hoi polloi into this most holy of holies.

Only the lucky possessor of a mauve, engraved card of invitation could hope to obtain admission, and even then the press of select ones was so great that special little gray-froeked vendures had to hold fast to the front door against encroaching and panting females.

Once inside the portals of 37 W. 57th street, which is the house of Lucile, Ltd., the lucky invited one settled down in the pearl tinted interior on a precarious gold chair and marveled amain.

To strains of the most insidious music, six of the most pulchritudinous models in captivity glided (real honest to goodness models never walk), in changing raiment that would make even the lilies of the field the dress, what are you going to name it?"

I understand Lucile designs some of her most successful creations in bed. Some of them look like it. It wasn't so much the frocks that left me gasping as the models wavered by, but their hair. Goodness knows the gowns were amazing enough with their tight-boned bodices, full crinoline skirts and all the earmarks of 1850, but the most amazing thing of all was the coiffures. I wonder does Lucile design them too.

A blonde had hers parted in the middle and also slicked down over each ear and slicked up in the back until it erupted in a fan-shaped loop on the top of her head.

Yet another blonde in a wondrous white satin and green embroidered dance frock dubbed "To Smile Again", had her hair all peeled back from her face and done in a coronet braid stuck through with a diamond arrow at such a killing angle as to guarantee the blinding of her first dancing partner of the evening.

Isn't you just dying to buy heaps of Lucile models so you can languidly say: "Well, I guess I'll wear my 'Over the Garden Wall' this morning; and this afternoon I'll slip on 'My Part I'll Play', but I just can't make up my mind whether to wear 'Ghosts of Dead Roses' or 'Sun Blest Are You' for this evening?"

Collar and Cuff Sets of Organdie

Just at the moment the Quaker collar and cuff sets of plain, fine organdie are the most popular of all the displays at the neckwear counter. For decoration they confine themselves to fine sprays of embroidery in floral patterns, or hemstitching, or edgings and insertions of very narrow lingerie laces.

But there are numbers of novelties, less plain, about to make their entry for the Christmas shopper's benefit. Among them is the pretty set of plaited and embroidered organdie shown in the picture above. This is designed to be worn with the simple one-piece afternoon frock of silk or the plain blouse of a dark color.

The collar is made in three parts. A section at the back of the plaited organdie is finished with hemstitching and adorned with very small sprays of embroidery. The shaped revers at the front are plain, finished about the edges with hemstitching and carrying sprays of fine embroidery that almost cover them.

The cuffs are plaited and the ends are rounded, showing the same pattern in embroidery that appears on the collar. At the center of each cuff is a narrow panel of embroidery.

Nothing does the beholder or the wearer more good than these fresh and dainty sets. They are modest in price, even when bought ready-made, and cost next to nothing when made by the capable needlewoman for herself. They wear well and launder perfectly.

fade away in hopeless unattainment.

Each and every toilette designed by Lucile has a pet name all its own. "Softly Purring" is a Champignon velvet gown, if you please; "What Every Woman Knows," a faded scarlet chiffon and silver tea dress; "I Miss You So," a black and white check velvet afternoon dress; "The Vibrant Heart of Heaven" a sapphire blue tulle and brocade evening gown; "Sniego" wrotchka" a white velvet and black fox restaurant gown, and "Svand Allure" a black and silver brocade evening coat.

It really must take as much of an artist to christen the gowns as to design 'em. Think how trying it must be to Lucile as she lolls in her Louis Seize bed and thinks up first of a ravishing restaurant gown, a delectable tea dress or a fascinating dance frock, to have a waiting secretary or one of her entourage say:

"Well, now, that you have thought

The Shakespeare Reading Circle

By Mrs. Robert J. Barbour.

When the fall of the year comes, the ladies begin to think of all the activities whereby they are to improve themselves in heart and mind during the coming winter. Their charities, benevolences, missions, literary clubs and social obligations are taken up with renewed enthusiasm and the drama of life starts forth anew.

In the fall of the year 1912 a number of ladies who were admirers of the drama, that art which most completely displays the life of man, conceived the idea of banding together for its study. The idea was met with great favor for we, who were unable to see the drama as presented in the theaters of the cities, decided to take up its study.

We realized that we would gain more of history and mythology, more of the harmony and rhythm of poetry, more of color and beauty, more of wit and humor and more of sorrowing and sympathy thereby than in any other course of reading.

To us the drama and Shakespeare were synonymous. We accordingly met at the home of Mrs. S. A. Barnes to talk the matter over and arrange plans.

We decided we would not be a club governed by any set rules, we would be "The Shakespeare Reading Circle." Whoever was leader of the play under consideration would be president for the time being no other officers being necessary. We would meet on every other Monday afternoon, read and discuss the dramas, compare our ideas and impressions. We would greatly benefit one another. We departed for our homes full of high hopes for our new Shakespeare Reading Circle. Through the years which have followed we have not been disappointed. Timidly at first we began with the "Merchant of Venice," "The Comedy of Errors," "As You Like It."

Those masterpieces which never grow old, which always stir the heart. Mrs. Clarence Hopewell in whom we all saw another Portia, with her gentle dignity taught us anew "The quality of mercy is not strained,

It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven—"

And we realized again that "If ever from your eyelids wiped a tear, And know what 'tis to pity and be pitied;

Let gentleness my strong enforcement be,"

With what merriment we received cook tomatoes in this syrup until clear (one hour is enough), then add three pounds seeded raisins, two pounds currants, eight teaspoons cinnamon, two teaspoons cloves, two teaspoons allspice, three tablespoons salt, two and one-fourth cup good cider vinegar, one and one-half pounds beef suet chopped fine. After these ingredients are added boil a full half hour and can just the same as any other fruit. Will keep for years.

C. E. L.

APPLE COTTAGE PUDDING.

Partly fill buttered pan with sliced apples, add sugar enough to sweeten; pour over top a batter made of one egg, one tablespoon butter, three-fourths cup sugar, one-half cup milk, flour enough to make batter that will pour easily, add one heaping teaspoon baking powder. Bake and serve hot with sauce made of two tablespoons butter, three-fourths cup sugar, one tablespoon flour; add boiling water to make thick, creamy sauce; add one teaspoon vanilla and serve hot.

SUBSCRIBER.

MINCEMEAT WITH MEAT.

One pound of raisins, one pound currants, one pound brown sugar, eight apples, one-half pound chopped beef chopped, one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, one-fourth pound citron, lemon and orange peel. Scald with one quart of boiled cider, cook half an hour. This makes one gallon.

O. L. A.

PEACH CAKE.

One* tablespoon butter, one cup sugar, one-half cup milk, one egg, two teaspoons baking powder, two cups flour and pinch of salt. Beat well and spread on a pie tin, cover top with peaches, hollow side up. Bake twenty minutes and serve hot with hard sauce or whipped cream.

TOMATOES FOR SOUP.

Put enough salt in water to float the exposition of "The Comedy of Errors" as presented by Mrs. Sara K. Shields, who has true dramatic instinct.

As our study progressed we became more systematic, taking up the historical plays in order, bringing up the actual history, manners and customs in their connection.

True to our womanly hospitality and unselfishness when we were enjoying ourselves so much, we began to think of our friends, so when Eastertime drew near we invited them to an evening with us at the home of Mrs. R. J. Barbour. And when they asked us, "Is the house trimmed, rushes strewed, cobwebs swept?" we said "All ready." Beautifully the house was trimmed with hyacinths and tulips and daffodils and ferns and much joy.

Music is ever a companion to the drama, so it was this evening. Miss Adelaide Gasaway sang "Blow, blow, ye wintry winds" and "Hark, hark, the lark," to Mrs. Tom Groub's beautiful accompaniment.

Miss Maud Wagner presented the sleep-walking scene of Lady Macbeth and a scene from "As You Like It." Everyone present participated in the clever arrangement of Shakespearean quotations.

The meeting was considered one of the most delightful ever given in Seymour, the gentlemen offering the ladies of the circle a rising vote of thanks for giving them so enjoyable an entertainment.

We have enjoyed many unexpected pleasures, as when Mrs. Will Bush was leading the play of King John, Mrs. Earl Cox rendered for her the pathetic scene in which the little Arthur, begs Hubert to "spare mine eyes."

Last year the circle was invited to the hospitable home of Mrs. George W. Gunder at Brownstown. Mrs. Gunder proved a delightful hostess, serving luncheon at noon. In the afternoon the year's work was closed with a splendid summary under the leadership of Mrs. Haskell Lett.

This winter we look forward to a profitable season's work and hope to make good progress in the chronicle historical plays on which we are now studying.

The ladies who constitute the membership of the Shakespeare Reading Circle are Mrs. Sara K. Shields, Mrs. Charles Resiner, Miss Nina Ewing, Mrs. Oren Swails, Mrs. E. D. Wright, Mrs. Chas. Graessle, Mrs. W. P. Masters, Mrs. Haskell Lett, Mrs. W. F. Bush, Mrs. S. A. Barnes, Mrs. Clarence Hopewell, Mrs. George W. Gunder, Mrs. Robert J. Barbour.

CLAM CHOWDER.

Twenty clams chopped fine, twelve boiled potatoes, one large onion, one slice of fat salt pork; all chopped fine and thoroughly mixed. Strain liquor of clams, pour over all, add four crackers rolled fine. Season to suit taste with salt and pepper. Simmer over slow fire two hours. Serve hot with bread and butter; a very nourishing and appetizing meal.

How to Can Fruit Without Cooking It.

The following method entirely eliminates the tedious way of clarifying sugar and boiling the fruit, and needs no fire in its preparation:

Put one quart of white preserving Batavia brandy into a large stone jar, having a tightly fitting cover. Then for every pound of fruit perfectly dry which you put in the brandy, use three-quarters of a pound of granulated sugar; stir every day, so that the sugar will be dissolved, using a clean wooden spoon. Every sort of fruit may be used, beginning with strawberries and ending with plums. (One pound of black cherries greatly enriches the color of the preserve.) The jar must be kept in a cool dry place and the daily stirring never forgotten, for that is the secret of success. You may put just as much of one sort of fruit as you like and it may be put in from day to day as you happen to have it. The preserve will be ready for use within a week after the last fruit is put in.

EVENTS IN THE WAR ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

By United Press. The Franco-Belgian coast battle continued, Allies blocking vicious German onslaughts. Germany claimed the capture of 20,000 British and many machine guns at Lille.

The Prussian Diet voted $375,000,000 more for war. Chancellor Delbruck declared Germany would fight to lasting peace.

Austro-Germans continued to drive the Russians back in Galicia and Bukovina, Vienna said.

The German army's left wing retreat from Warsaw continued and 2,000 Austrian officers and men and many machine guns were captured in Galicia, Petrograd claimed.

England released one, but held two other, American oil ships, while America filed another protest. England asserted the oiler Brindilla, held, is German-owned.

WOMEN TRAM CONDUCTOR.

Are Now Given Licenses by London Authorities.

London, Oct. 21.—The London authorities have decided to license women to act as tramway conductors. The question of granting them licenses as conductors on busses also were discussed, but no action was taken.

The ability of women to act as conductors on tramways has been well proved. The powerful trade unions do not, however, regard the innovation with much favor. It will be recalled that a short time ago three unions decided to strike against the London county council tramways over grievances which were drastically settled by the county council's refusal to re-employ men of a military age. Whether the resentment against women for usurping the places of men will be allayed by reason of the necessities of war, is a matter for considerable speculation.

LINDSEY OFFERED $50,000

Colorado Judge Receives Proposition From New York Lecture Bureau.

Denver, Oct. 21.—Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the Denver juvenile court, received a telegraphic offer from a New York lecturing bureau, offering him $50,000 for a three-year contract on the lecture platform. Judge Lindsey said he was seriously considering the offer, but had a week in which to reply.

He said: "For years I have been fighting certain interests in this city and state, and as a result I am a poor man. I have spent $40 a month more than my salary as judge to carry on work of my court and have for years depended upon what I made from the lecture platform for my living expenses."

MOONSHINERS PLEAD GUILTY

Action Surprises Court After Case Had Gone to Trial.

Ft. Smith, Ark., Oct. 21.—Seven men on trial charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the manufacture of moonshine whiskey, pleaded guilty in the United States district court here. The case against Fred Bowles of Ft. Smith, the eighth defendant, was dismissed. The cases against the defendants had gone to trial and their action was a surprise.

Twenty or more other defendants, alleged to have been involved in the conspiracy through which the government is said to have lost thousands of dollars in revenue, and who are under indictment, will be placed on trial in January, it was announced. They include Knox Booth of Nashville, Tenn., former superintendent of the Tennessee revenue division of the government's service.

SWOPE MAKES GOOD IN INDIANA LINEUP

Local Boy Handles Varsity Team at Quarter Back Like a Veteran.

Joe Swope, son of Postmaster and Mrs. Allen Swope, is again in the football lineup at Indiana University after a brief illness. His return to the lineup means much for the team as he played at quarter last season very successfully. He handles his team well and executes effective plays.

That he is showing up well in practice is stated in the following dispatch from Bloomington appearing in the Indianapolis Star today:

With every man in the big squad out in a suit the first real workout since the Chicago game was staged on Jordan Field this afternoon, the two varsity teams and the freshman eleven going through a long, hard scrimmage. While the Maroons are lamenting the loss of two or three of their best players, as a result of the punishment they received from Indiana, the Crimson has not lost a man, which is altogether contrary to former experiences. Usually after the battle with Stagg's eleven, Indiana comes home to find several of its best stars out for the rest of the season. The fact that the men are so well conditioned and have escaped thus far this year is a matter of general comment heard on all sides.

In tonight's practice Joe Swope, the speedy quarter, who returned to the fold last night, demonstrated that he can play football as good this year as last. He showed his familiarity with the signals, ran the team like a veteran and executed some pretty passes for good gains. At end running he also proved a good ground gainer. Twenty-eight points were registered on the freshmen, Erhart, Grey, McIntosh and Scott getting over the line for one touchdown each. The varsity used the regulation ball in offensive play, but when the freshmen took the oval it was always the "pea ball," which the regulars had a hard time in following. They had no trouble in holding the youngsters down, however, and frequently obtained the pigskin on downs. The coaches gave the backs a long

GIRL LEAPS TO HER DEATH

Jumps From Fifth Story Window of the Chicago Club.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The Chicago club, the most exclusive haunt of millionaires in the city, was the scene of a tragedy. Nannie Johnson, twenty, who served as a laundress, leaped from a fifth-story window to Van Buren street. The death the girl sought came instantly.

There is mystery about the death. Manager W. B. Bangs of the club said the girl's room was on the second floor and that she could have no business on the fifth floor, which is reserved for the use of club members.

The Johnson girl came recently to this country from Kalmatlan, Sweden. Mrs. A. Holton, housekeeper of the club, said the girl spoke only Swedish and that she spent all her spare time reading the Bible.

Mr. Hugh T. Miller, of Columbus, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States senator from Indiana. The announcement did not come as a surprise as it has been known for several months that Mr. Miller has been urged to get into the race. He is admired by Republicans generally as they recognize in him all the qualifications that are necessary for the high honor which he is seeking.

With his announcement, Mr. Miller issued a statement in which he briefly outlined the platform upon which he will make his race. He makes it very plain that he is to fight the cause of the people. He has never recognized cliques nor clans and has always stood flatly for the great principles of government which are embodied in the Republican party. He believes in progress and advancement. He believes in patriotism and citizenship of the truest character and that the welfare of the entire United States is best protected by Republican principles of government.

The Republicans in Jackson county know Mr. Miller personally and that his career has been one of achievements. He has already demonstrated his ability in public life. He has served in the legislature and as lieutenant-governor of Indiana. His record is an open book and speaks for itself. His purposes and aims were well known. He stood for the best in public life and his efforts were centered upon measures that benefited the entire state. While in office in this state he was first of all an Indian, and likewise if nominated and elected to the United States senate he will be first, last and all the time an American.

BUREAU OF EDUCATION
BEGINS NEW CAMPAIGNFollows President's Declaration that Foreign Born Residents Must be De-Hyphenated.

(By United Press Staff Correspondent).

Washington D. C., October 21.—Augmenting President Wilson's declaration that America's foreign-born residents must be de-hyphenated, the U. S. Bureau of Education today announced the beginning of a vigorous country-wide de-hyphenating campaign.

A three-part constructive program is being developed by the Bureau, with the following features:

The insuring that newly-arrived immigrant children are immediately placed in the public schools and not sent into factories and mills.

The promotion of the naturalization of alien residents of the United States.

The teaching of English to all foreign-born residents of this country who cannot read and speak that language.

The first step, that of seeing that newly-arrived immigrant children are placed in schools, is now being carried out through co-operation between the various school officials of the country and the immigration officials at the ports of entry.

When a group of immigrants arrive, the inspectors at the port learn to what localities the individual families with children are going. They send to the proper school authorities the names of the children they can expect. There officials then make strenuous efforts to prevent any evasion of the compulsory education laws by getting the children into schools as soon as they arrive.

In addition, the school authorities are also actively engaged in "recruiting" work among the fathers of these same children to induce them to take out naturalization papers.

A first edition of 50,000 brightly-colored, attractively printed posters, setting forth in English and the six principal immigrant languages the advantages of becoming a citizen, have been published. The Bureau is sending these posters to 25,000 postmasters and 8,000 school officials throughout the country, by whom they will be posted conspicuously to catch the eye of the unnaturalized immigrant.

Educational authorities are also following up this printed appeal with personal talks to immigrants. A series of receptions is being planned at which both government officials and naturalized immigrants will talk to these men.

The posters sent out impress upon every alien who cannot read and speak English, the importance of learning the language from the standpoint of becoming a good citizen and making a good wage. They tell him to go to the nearest night school and register or to go to the postmaster or school official nearest him and enlist their aid in getting in touch with a school.

In a letter to school superintendents the Bureau of Education points out that there are 2,953,000 foreign-born whites ten years or over in the United States and no less than 2,898,606 fifteen years or over, generally beyond the compulsory education laws, who cannot speak English. Commenting upon this situation the letter says:

"These facts seem so appalling when taken in connection with the figures for illiteracy which are almost as large, that they call for action on the part of the Federal Government which will reach the non-English-speaking immigrant individually."

Officials of the Bureau intimated, unofficially, that in times of national crisis such a situation might easily prove, if not disastrous, at least extremely embarrassing to the government.

Realizing the danger of having such a large body of the inhabitants of this country almost wholly acquainted with the national thought of the nation, the Bureau is going to push the campaign of education through with all the force and speed possible and probably will ask Congressional aid when presenting it estimates for the net appropriation.

SENATOR KERN IN FAVOR
OF THE DEFENSE PROGRAMIndiana Senator will Tell President
That He Expects no Opposition in Congress.

By United Press.

Washington, October 21.—Senator Kern, of Indiana, the senate majority leader, tomorrow will tell President Wilson that he anticipates no trouble for the administration's defense program in congress. He so informed newspaper men today following a talk with Secretary Tamm.

"There may be some compromises," he said, "but I believe the defense program will go through substantially in the form outlined."

As for Kern lining up with Bryan against President Wilson, Kern said, "that is poppy-cock."

Kern thinks it likely he said that congress will strike for a duty on sugar as a source of revenue to support the appropriations for greater defense.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. F. Pfaffenberger Wednesday afternoon, October 20. The devotions were led by Mrs. M. C. Carpenter. Her scripture lesson being 121 Psalm.

The Bible committee gave a very encouraging report of several additional donations for the purchase of Bibles to be distributed.

After the business session reports of the State Convention, held at Muncie, were given by Mrs. Kittie Teckemeyer and Mrs. Alma Perkinson. These reports show a great progress in the temperance work of the state.

There were fifty new unions originated this year. This makes a total of 360 unions in Indiana. During the year four new counties, Sullivan, Washington, Harrison and Crawford were added to the enrollment. This brings total number of counties to sixty. The report shows 10,328 members wearing the white ribbon in Indiana. This is a gain of 739 from the past year.

Mrs. Baker gave a very interesting report of the Ohio State Convention held in Dayton. She states that they are very enthusiastic in their effort to secure State Wide Prohibition for which they will vote November 2.

Mrs. Pfaffenberger rendered a beautiful instrumental solo after which the programme closed with a prayer by Mrs. McCoglin.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 10, with Mrs. R. R. Short on North Bill street.

RECEPTION.

The members of the Choral Club held a reception last evening at the Conservatory of Music for Mrs. Marie Krug Cheney, the new vocal teacher at the Conservatory. The rooms were beautifully decorated with autumn flowers, and a pleasant informal social evening was enjoyed. The club will meet regularly during the winter months, and a program will be given at each meeting. Mrs. Cheney sang several selections last evening, and her beautiful soprano voice and charming personality made a most favorable impression upon all present. Mrs. Cheney will commence her regular work here next week.

SOCIAL HOUR AND OYSTER STEW

WHY YOU SHOULD WEAR DR. REED'S Cushion Shoes

Comfort Your feet rest upon a flexible cushion which conforms to and fills every curve of your feet, and distributes the weight of your body evenly the full length and width of the bottoms of your feet, relieving the extreme pressure on your heel, ankle and toe joints, and prevents any jar from walking.

Fit Dr. Reed shoes are scientifically constructed, the foot conforming cushion holds your feet as in a mold, relieving callouses, corns, bunions and the hot burning sensation of your feet caused by the ordinary hard-soled shoes.

Health The soft fibre insole holds your feet in place and distributes the weight of your body evenly from heel to toe, and permits a free circulation of your blood through the bottoms of your feet, relieves excessive perspiration and restores them to a natural, healthy condition. The fibre insole is an absolute non-conductor of heat and cold and does not allow the dampness to penetrate through the soles, preventing rheumatism, pneumonia and other diseases caused by your feet not being sufficiently protected.

Every man who wears them is a walking advertisement. We carry three lasts, all widths and sizes, at $5.00 the pair. We are the sole agents in Jackson County.

ed some of these and have also given attention to certain roads.

The bridges that were recently constructed and those that will be built this fall replace those that were washed away or damaged during the heavy rains in July. It is stated that the new drainages ditches that have been constructed in all parts of the county during the last few years have resulted in a heavier bridge expense as structures were necessitated over these. Most of such culverts are small but the total cost amounts to considerable, it is stated.

The commissioners have given much attention to bridges this year and the recent appropriation made by the county council included several bridges to be built next spring. One of these is the small steel bridge just north of the White River bridge at Rockford. The structure is in a bad condition but is said to be safe. However, the present bridge will be removed and a concrete culvert constructed next spring, according to the present plans.

AUTO OUTLOOK BRIGHT, SAYS MAXWELL MAN

B. W. Habel of Detroit, Says Conditions Are Bright for Good Year —Williams Take Agency.

Mr. B. W. Habel, district representative of the Maxwell Motor Co., of Detroit, was in the city today and talks very encouragingly of the automobile business conditions. He says that he expects there will be fully double the number of cars sold during 1916 than in any previous year. The Maxwell factories are running at full capacity and turning out 225 cars each day and they expect to build and market 60,000 cars this season.

Mr. Habel drove down from Indianapolis in one of the new Maxwell "Wonder" cars, the agency for which has been recently secured by J. H. Williams & Son, of N. Ewing street, who are planning to launch a new selling plan, the "Twentieth Century" plan, which it is stated will appeal not only to prospective buyers with plenty of cash, but to people of moderate means, who have not enough ready cash to buy a new car outright. Mr. Habel expects to adopt this plan throughout the entire state of Indiana.

Williams and Son expect to place a large number of the Maxwell cars in this territory under this new sales plan.

U. S. EMBARGO ON VILLA ARMS

Act Is Designed to Aid the Carranza Government.

VILLA AGENCY TO CLOSE UP

Wilson Cuts Off Shipments to All
Factions, Save That of the Recognized Carranza Government, Which Will Be Able to Get Supply.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Action designed to assist the Carranza government in Mexico to suppress all armed opposition was taken by President Wilson in a proclamation announcing the reimposition of the embargo on the exportation of arms to Mexico.

The single exception against free exportation to Carranza ports is the border of Chihuahua, Sonora and all ports of lower California. The administration considers the situation along the boundary of those regions as too unsettled to make it wise to allow low exportation, even through the ports that Carranza controls in those districts. This exception will not interfere with Carranza getting abundant supplies from the United States.

What the Villistas think of the effectiveness of this measure on the part of the United States was indicated by the announcement later in the day that the Villa agency here would be dissolved next Saturday.

The method of the imposing of an arms embargo is for the president, acting under the authority of a resolution of congress enacted in 1912, to prohibit the exportation of all arms to Mexico, except in cases where special permission shall be given by the executive authority. In the present situation treasury officials at United States ports of exportation will give permission for shipments of arms to all ports under control of the Carranza government. The embargo will be in force against such border ports as Villa controls.

Another development of the situation growing out of the recognition of Carranza by the United States was the departure for Vera Cruz of John R. Silliman of the consular service, who, for a year has been President Wilson's personal representative near Carranza. It is expected that Mr. Silliman will be the medium of communication with the Carranza government until a new ambassador to Mexico has been appointed.

DAMAGE SUITS DISMISSED

Cases of Indianapolis Shoe Worker Ended For Want of Prosecution.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., Oct. 20.—Judge Warren N. Hauck, of the Dearborn circuit court, dismissed the damage suits of $5,000, each filed by Miss Pearl E. Stelling of Indianapolis, a shoe worker, against Clarence B. Stikes, patrolman, and George W. Nieman, a saloon keeper of Aurora, who was employed in a shoe manufacturing plant in Aurora, alleged that Stikes enticed her into the rear room of Nieman's saloon and that after forcing her to drink liquor he and the saloon keeper attacked her.

The grand jury reported it was unable to find sufficient evidence to return an indictment against them.

WOMAN BEHEADED WITH AX

Husband Returns Home to Find Family Had Been Murdered.

Dyersburg, Tenn., Oct. 20.—Returning home from work Peter Featherstone found his wife's body with the head severed by a blow from an ax, and their two children lying beside their mother, their clothing spattered with blood. A posse arrested Robert Davis, colored. The prisoner was brought here to the jail. A strong guard was established to prevent a lynching.

Where the woman lay the police found signs of a terrific struggle.

IS SUPPLE ORCHID SHADE

Evening Frock Reflects Mrs. Galt's Fondness For Them.

Baltimore, Oct. 20.—The fondness of Mrs. Galt for the orchids which President Wilson sends her every day, is reflected in an exquisite evening frock, the latest contribution of Baltimore couturiers to her trousseau.

The gown is a delicate confection of orchid colored tulle, dropped over an underground of supple orchid shade and upon the lines of the flimsy bouffant draperies, for no trimming is used on the gown except a single band of blue fox furs across one shoulder.

AUTO UPSET; THREE HURT

Machine Struck Railroad Tracks and Turned Over.

Friendswood, Ind., Oct. 20.—Three persons were hurt when an automobile driven by Dr. G. H. McCaskey of West Newton, was turned over when crossing the Vandalia railroad crossing here.

Mrs. William Burks, an occupant of the car, suffered a broken right arm; Mrs. Perry Palmer, another occupant, suffered severe bruises and a broken rib, and Dr. McCaskey was slightly hurt.

Six Dead In Wreck.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 20.—Six people are dead, two are probably fatally injured, and eight others are badly hurt as the result of a head-on collision between Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific south-bound train No. 11 and a north-bound freight train, twelve miles, south of Chickasha.

Sue Cashier's Estate.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 20.—H. C. Hasemeier, proprietor of a department store, is suing the estate of Miss Louise Bentlage, who committed suicide several months ago, to recover an alleged shortage of $9,735 in her accounts. She was cashier of the store and an active church worker.

Found Guilty of Manslaughter.

Mt. Vernon, Ind., Oct. 20.—Joe Mills, age twenty, the Kentuckian who, with Manuel Underdown, has been in jail charged with the murder of Two Spot Charlie McDowell, negro gambler, was found guilty in the circuit court of manslaughter and sentenced to a term of two to twenty-one years in prison.

GIVES TESTIMONY IN HAVEN SUIT

Chas. S. Mellen Witness In Anti-Trust Suit.

EXPLAINS OLD CONDITIONS

Former President of New Haven Railroad Gives History of New England Roads Before Alleged Transportation Monopoly Conspiracy.

New York, Oct. 21.—Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, testified against the eleven men with whom he formerly was associated on the road's board of directors, whose trial on the charge of violating the Sherman anti-trust law began one week ago.

Mr. Mellen was preceded on the stand by two present officials of the New Haven, who identified about two thousand documentary exhibits subpoenaed by the government from the New Haven files.

Standing before a government map of the New England railroad system, with a long pointer in his hand, much like a college professor, delivering a lecture to his pupils, Mr. Mellen explained the nature of the competitive railroad conditions at the time, twenty-five years ago, when the New Haven's alleged conspiracy to control the entire transportation traffic of the six states began.

Mr. Mellen gave his occupation as "a farmer—an agriculturist." He told the history of his railroad experience, which dated back to 1869, when he was a clerk in the cashier's office of the Northern Railroad of New Hampshire. Then he took his pointer and traced on the map the routes of the dozen New England railroads which in 1890 had an independent existence. He described their steamboat line connections with other roads outside of New England.

The New Haven at that time was not much of a freight line. The Old Colony, with its steamboat lines from Fall river and New Bedford to New York, was getting the major share of the traffic. The New Haven's chief strategical advantage at the time, the witness indicated, was in passenger traffic, as none of the other roads could maintain through passenger service to New York, except over the New Haven tracks.

All these roads maintained their freight connections to points outside of New England through traffic arrangements, and contributed pro rata to the expenses of about a score of freight soliciting organizations which routed through traffic over the various connecting lines. These various through routes were in competition, Mr. Mellen said.

"Was the competition keen?" asked Frank L. Swacker, the government attorney.

"I should say there was considerable competition," replied the witness. "It was fairly lively."

MANY ALIENS LEAVE AMERICA

More Left the United States in August Than Arrive.

Washington, Oct. 21.—More aliens left the United States in August than arrived, the number leaving being greater than in any month, except last December, since the European war began.

Latest statistics of the bureau of immigration, show 29,293 emigrants and 12,444 nonemigrant aliens left, making a total of 41,737, while 21,949 immigrant and 5,464 nonimmigrants arrived, a total of 27,413. More than half of those leaving were Italians responding to the call to the colors.

DETENTION CAMP IS HINTED

Government Officials Angered at Escape of Interned Germans.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Navy department officials are seriously considering recommending that 500 men and officers on the two German interned ships at Norfolk, Va.—the Kronprinz Wilhelm and the Prinz Eitel Friedrich—be taken off the vessels and placed in a detention camp.

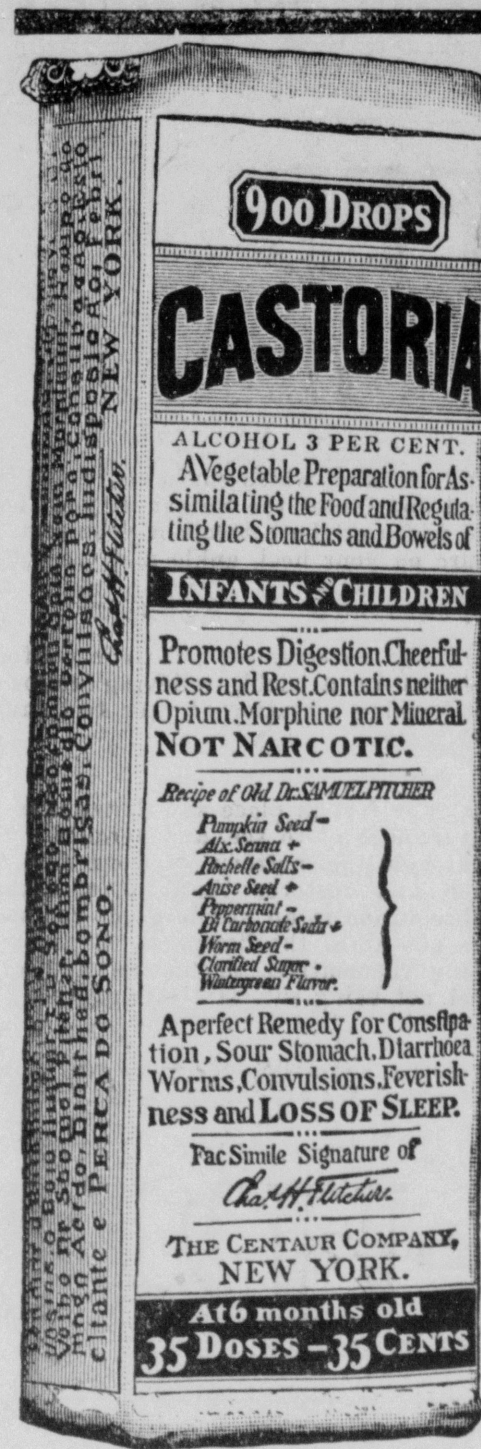

The announcement that three officers from one of the ships had violated their parole and escaped, has so incensed officials of the navy department that it is considered certain stringent measures will be taken at once to prevent any more escapes.

Find $10,000 In Tin Cans.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 21.—Ten thousand dollars hidden in tin cans was found in the house of Mrs. Jean Deslarge, near Assumption, twenty miles south of here, when a search was made by Frank Oakes, conservator for the woman and her two daughters. They have lived in seclusion for thirty years.

Mixed Poison With Tobacco.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 21.—As a result of inhaling poison, George Laib, twenty-five years old, chief yard clerk for the C. & E. I. railroad here, is not expected to live. Doctors say he had bichloride of mercury in his possession and accidentally mixed it in a pipeful of tobacco he smoked.

TALES OF CORRUPTION RIFE

Suffragists Assert Defeat In New Jersey Will Help Carry New York.

New York, Oct. 21.—Tales of corruption in the New Jersey special election were rife in the various suffrage headquarters of New York city. Women watchers at the polls came in shoals to relate instances of repeating, illegal electioneering, etc. But the New York suffragists gayly insisted that nothing of that sort could happen in this state, when the amendment is voted on Nov. 2. James Leeds Laidlaw declared that the New Jersey affair was going to help the New York amendment.

Miss Katherine D. Blake declared that she was not surprised at the result in New Jersey. "It is behind every other state—even the southern states, in education," she said. "The average expenditure for schools is $11, and the average for the United States is $28. It slumbers in ignorance."

It is believed that an investigation will be made in the election fraud charges.

PAID THE DEATH PENALTY

Two Women and Three Men Court-Martialed and Shot.

Amsterdam, Oct. 20.—Two other women and three men paid the death penalty on the same charge as did Miss Edith Cavell, the British nurse reported shot at Brussels by the commander of a firing squad in front of which she had fainted. The others were, according to the Elcho De Beige, Countess Jeanne De Belleville, Mme.

Louise Thibaut, a Frenchwoman, Philippe Dany, an architect, and M. Severin, a chemist.

It is asserted that at Osten the Princess Maria De Croy was sentenced to ten years hard labor because she had broken an umbrella over the back of a German officer who had insulted her.

SLOW DOWN, SAYS SPEAKER

Safety First Delegates In Convention at Detroit.

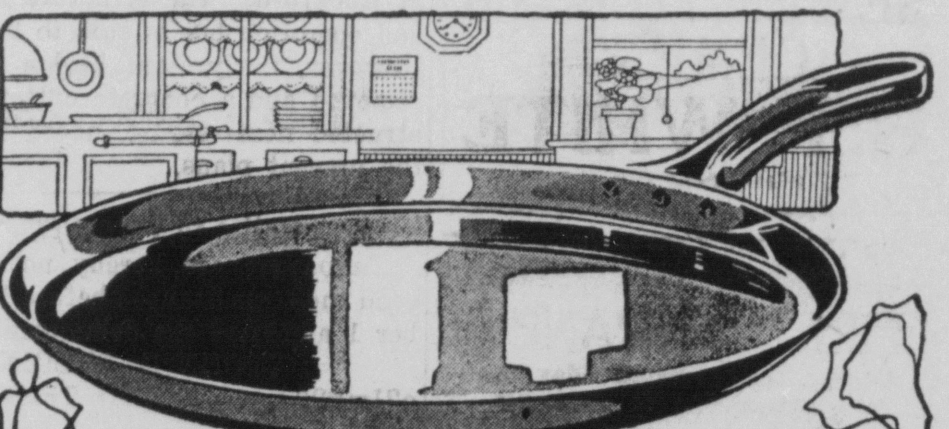

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 20.—"If human life is to be jeopardized by haste, don't hurry. If human life is to be sacrificed by speeding up efficiency, be less efficient," declared Darwin P. Kingsbury of New York, president of the Safety First Federation of America, in sounding the keynote of the first annual convention of the organization here. The meeting is being attended by more than 100 official delegates from important cities of the United States.

This is not a political, but a humanitarian project, and human rights and needs are not limited by state lines. The convention will last two days.

CHAPTER IX.

One afternoon, while old Milt McBriar was sitting on the porch of his house, a horseman rode up and "lighted." The horseman was not of pleasant expression, but he knew his mission and was sure of his welcome.

"Evenin', Luke," welcomed the McBriar chief, and as the visitor sank into a chair with a nod, he laconically announced:

"I've done found out who kilt Nash Watt."

Old Milt never showed surprise. It was his pride that his features had banished all register of emotion. Now he merely leaned over and knocked the ash from his pipe against the railing.

"Wall," he commanded curtly, "let's hev yore tale."

"They picked out a man fer ther job thet hain't been mixed up in no leud fightin' heretofore," pursued the other with unruffled calmness. "He's a feller thet nobody wouldn't suspect; him bein' peaceable an' mostly sober. But he shoots his squirts through the head every time he throws up his gun. Ther war ther kind of man they wanted."

Milt McBriar shifted his position a little. He seemed bored.

"Who war this feller?"

The bearer of tidings was reserving his climax and refused to be hurried. "I reckon ye'll be right smart astonished when I names his name, but thar hain't no chanst of bein' mistook. I've done run ther thing down."

"I hain't niver astonished," retorted McBriar. "Who war he?"

Very cautiously the second man looked around and then bent over and whispered a name. There was a short pause, after which the chief commented: "Wall, I reckon I don't need ter tell yer what ter do now."

"I reckon I knows," confessed Luke with a somewhat surly expression.

But Milt McBriar was paying no attention. His face was darkening.

"I wish I could afford ter git the real man!" he exclaimed abruptly. "I wish I durst hev Anse Havey kilt."

"Wall," this time it was the underling who spoke casually—"I reckon I mought as well die fer a sheep as a lamb. Shell I kilt Anse Havey fer ye?"

The chieftain looked at him during a long pause, then slowly shook his head.

"No, Luke," he said quietly. "I hain't quite ready ter die myself yit. I reckon if I hed ye ter kilt Bad Anse thet's 'bout what'd happen. Jest git ther lamb this trip an' let ther old ram live a spell."

So, one unspeakably sultry morning, a few days after that informal session, Good Anse Talbott arrived at the Widow Everson's house. As Juanita Holland appeared at the door to greet him he came at once to the point.

"Fletcher McNash has done been kilt," he said. "Bout twilight last night, es he was a-comin' in from ther barn somebody shot one shoot from ther la'rel. I reckon hit'd be right smart comfort ter his woman an' little Dawn ef ye could ride over thar an' help 'tend ter ther buryin'. Kin ye start now?"

Go! Juanita would go if it were necessary to run a gantlet of all the combined forces of the Haves and McBriars. Her heart ached for the widow and the boys, but for Dawn the ache was as deeply poignant as it could have been for a little sister of her own. So with set face and hot indignation Juanita mounted for the journey.

At last they reached the McNash cabin and found gathered about it a score of figures with sullen and scowling faces.

From the barn came the screech of saw and rat-tat of hammer, where those whose knack ran into carpentry were fashioning the box which was to serve in lieu of a casket.

There was no fire now, and the cabin was very dark. In a deeply shadowed corner lay Fletcher McNash, made visible by the white sheet that covered him.

Juanita had come in silently, and for a moment thought that no one else was there. The younger children had been sent away, and the neighbors remained outside with rough sense of consideration.

There, in a squat chair near the cold hearth, sat Mrs. McNash, her back turned to the room. She was leaning forward and gazing ahead with unseeing eyes. Dawn was kneeling.

"Are You a Bondsman to Bad Anse Havey?"

ing at her side with both arms about her mother's drooping shoulders.

Juanita bent and impulsively kissed the withered face, but the woman only stirred a little, like a half-wakened sleeper, and looked stolidly up. After a while she spoke in the lifeless, far-away tone of utter lethargy.

"Ef ye'd like ter see him, jest lift up ther sheet. He's a-layin' thar." Then once more she sank back into the coma of her staring at the hearth with its dead ashes.

Then the door opened, letting in two men, and in them Juanita recognized Jeb McNash and Bad Anse Havey.

At their coming Dawn looked up, drawing away from the embrace of the older girl, and retreated silently to a corner, as though ashamed of having been discovered in tears. For a few moments there was silence in the room, complete except for the rap of Jeb's pipe when he knocked out its ashes against the chimney.

Bad Anse stood with folded arms in the dim light and gave no sign that he had recognized the presence of the "furrin" woman.

The boy jerked his head toward the hearth and said in a strained, hard voice: "Set ye a cheer, Anse," and after that no one spoke. Jeb's thin but muscular chest rose and fell to the swell of heavy breathing and his face was wrapped black in a scowl that made his eyes smolder and his lips snarl. Juanita had dropped back to one of the beds with Dawn's face buried in her lap.

Then, as if rousing from a long dream, Mrs. McNash looked up, and for the first time appeared to realize that her son and his companion had entered the place.

The dead blankness left her pupils, and into them leaped a hateful fire. Her voice came in shrill and high-pitched questioning: "Wall, Jeb, hev ye got him yit?"

The boy only shook his head and glowered at the wall, while his mother's voice rose almost to a scream.

"Hain't ye a goin' ter do nothin'?" Thar lays yore pap what niver harmed no man, shot down cold-blooded. Don't ye hear him a-callin' on yer ter settle his blood score? Air ye skeered? Ther spirit of him thet fathered ye's a-pleadin' with ye—an' ye sets still in yore cheer!"

Juanita felt the slender figure in her embrace shudder at the lashing invective that fell from the mother's lips. She saw the boy's face whiten; saw him rise and turn to Bad Anse Havey, half in ferocity, half in pleading.

"Maw's right, Anse," he doggedly declared. "I kaint tarry hyar no

Sore Throat Prudence.

No family medicine chest is well stocked without a bottle of TONSILINE, for you don't know what moment it may be needed to relieve a sudden case of Sore Throat. Relieving Sore Throat is TONSILINE's special mission. It is made for that—advertised for that—sold for that purpose. longer. He b'longs ter me. I've gotter go out an' kill him. Thar hain't but one thing a-stoppin' me now," he added helplessly. "I don't know who did it; I hain't got no notion."

He stood before the clan chief, and the latter rose and laid one hand on the shoulder which had begun to tremble. Man and boy looked at each other, eye to eye, then the elder of the two began to speak.

"Jeb, I don't want ye to think I don't feel fer ye, but ye don't know who the feller is, an' ye can't hardly go shootin' permicious. Ye've got to bide yer time."

"But," interrupted the boy tensely, "you knows. You knows everything hyarabouts. In heaven's name, Anse, I hain't askin' nothin' out of ye but jest one word. Jest speak one name, thet's all I needs."

The mother had dropped back into her stupor again, and her son stood there, his brogane feet wide apart and his whole body rigid and tense with passion.

Anse Havey once more shook his head.

"No, Jeb," he said quietly; "I don't know—not yet. The McBriars acted on suspicion—an' they killed the wrong man. Ye ain't seekin' to do likewise, be ye? Ye ain't quite twenty-one, Jeb, an' I'm the head of the family. I reckon ye'd better take counsel of me, boy. I ain't bent on deludin' ye, an' ye can trust me. Ye've got to give me your hand, Jeb, that until ye're plumb, everlastingly certain who got your pa, ye won't raise your gun against any man."

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

PLAN FOR CLARK PAGEANT

Jeffersonville Will Honor Explorer in Centennial Celebration.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Oct. 20.—At a preliminary meeting of the local centennial committee, named by Lewis C. Baird, who was appointed local chairman by the state commission, it was tentatively decided to have homecoming week the last week of August, 1916, and to have as a feature of the celebration a reproduction of "The Landing," the start of General George Roger Clark's expedition to Kaskaskia and Vincennes in 1778 which resulted in the conquest of the northwest.

Evidence was recently found by Henry A. Burt, a lawyer and former mayor of this city, that Clark maintained an inland camp a short distance west of this city.

COLLINS CASE PUZZLES

Authorities of Cass County Do Not Know What to Do With Wood.

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 20.—Cass county authorities are puzzled as to what action to take concerning Ellis Wood, who is being held in jail here for the murder of Walter Collins on the Case Howard county line, Sept. 7. The Howard grand jury investigated the case, but returned no indictment. All the evidence obtained by Cass county officials was sent to the Howard county authorities.

At first the Howard county police believed Collins was killed in Howard county, but now it is asserted he was killed in Cass county.

MAKING RAPID PROGRESS

Bulgars Penetrate Serbian Territory at Eight Places—Great Britain Offers Island of Cypress to Greece to Enter the War.

London, Oct. 21.—Great Britain has offered to cede to Greece the island of Cyprus, the third largest island in the Mediterranean, as an inducement to her to enter the war on the side of the allies.

The Serbian capital has been removed from Nish, now seriously menaced by the Bulgarians, to Prizeur, in the extreme western part of the country on the Albanian frontier.

An unconfirmed dispatch received from Athens says that the Bulgarian armies have been driven out of Vranja, where they had succeeded in cutting the Nish-Salonica railway, and that communication between northern Serbia and Salonica has again been established.

Apparently reliable information from Germany is to the effect that the Austro-Germans are about to undertake another offensive movement in the Balkans, this time against Montenegro. At Sarejevo, in Bosnia, 20,000 soldiers from the Galician front are said to have been concentrated for operations against Montenegro. Instead of decreasing in magnitude, or remaining where first indications placed them, the Austro-German plans in the Balkans seem to be rapidly growing. It is evident that the German general staff is staking enormous hopes on the outcome in the near east and that the people of Germany and Austro-Hungary have been keyed up to a high pitch of expectancy.

Istip, a Serbian town of some importance, forty miles west of the Bulgarian frontier, and but twelve miles from the Nish-Salonica railway, has fallen to the Bulgars.

Sultan Tepe, southwest of Egri-Palanka, has been stormed and captured by Bulgarian forces.

The Bulgarians have penetrated deep into Serbian territory at eight places. They are making progress at three or four times the speed of their allies, the Austro-Germans in the north.

A Salonica dispatch denies that Strumica has been taken by Serbian and Anglo-French forces. This dispatch says that the French officers received orders not to cross in to Bulgarian territory.

The Austro-Germans were compelled to evacuate Czernowitz, the capital of the Austrian crown land of Bukovina—one day less than a year since they recaptured it from the Russians.

From Paris it is learned that the French minister of war, M. Millerand, the French ambassador to Great Britain, M. Cambon, and M. Millerand's secretary, conferred with the war commissions. The meeting was followed by a council of the cabinet. No announcements, however, have been made.

REPULSE GERMAN ATTACK

Attempt to Cut Off Rheims Frustrated by the Allies.

Paris, Oct. 21.—The German attempt to cut off Rheims, which resulted disastrously for them, when, after they had succeeded in driving the French from some trenches between La Pompelle and Prosnes, they were forced back again with considerable loss, was renewed.

No second infantry attack has yet been made, but a very violent bombardment which may be regarded as a preliminary to such an attack, was begun, the enemy using shells of all sizes and gas bombs.

MRS. B. M. RALSTON DEAD

Death Follows an Operation For Appendicitis.

Indianapolis, Oct. 21.—Mrs. B. M. Ralston died at the Methodist hospital following an illness of a few days. Mrs. Ralston was operated upon for appendicitis and did not rally from the effects. She was the sister-in-law of Governor Ralston.

Mrs. Ralston was prominent in club circles of the city and was an active worker in several important organizations. She is survived by her husband, B. M. Ralston, and two children, a son and a married daughter.

Fell Asleep on Track; Killed.

Lagrange, Ind., Oct. 21.—Cook Saxton, forty years old, of Kendallville, was killed instantly by a Grand Rapids & Indiana freight train near Wolcottville. The man had fallen asleep on the track. The engineer of the train saw him when about eighty feet from the body, but was unable to stop his engine in time.

COMPLETES REVENUE PLANS

President Wilson Decides Upon Revenue Legislation.

Washington, Oct. 20.—President Wilson has practically completed the revenue program which he will lay before the majority members of the ways and means committee when they meet here in November for a preliminary conference.

The president, it was authoritatively stated, intends to co-operate with Representative Kitchen, the slated majority leader of the house, and his colleagues, to the fullest possible extent and if serious opposition to his present plans develop he will make every effort to reach an agreement.

The program embodies: First—The re-enactment of the revenue laws; second, the repeal of that provision of the sugar schedule which would place sugar on the free list May 1; third, the issuance of bonds to meet the increases in the army and navy appropriations; fourth, the enactment of the anti-dumping clause of the Underwood act which was reported favorable by the ways and means committee at the last session, but was stricken from the bill by a viva voce vote of the house.

When Baby Has the Croup.

When a mother is awakened from sound sleep to find her child who has gone to bed apparently in the best of health struggling for breath, she is naturally alarmed. Yet if she can keep her presence of mind and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy every ten minutes until vomiting is produced, quick relief will follow and the child will drop to sleep to awaken in the morning as well as ever. This remedy has been in use for many years with uniform success. Obtainable everywhere.

TIRED OF MARRIED LIFE

Former Vice Crusader, Virginia Brooks Washburne, Sues For Divorce.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Virginia Brooks-Washburne, who, as Virginia Brooks, won fame as the Joan of Arc of West Hammond, and as author of "The Little Lost Sister," has tired of matrimony. She has announced through her attorney, Edward Burling, that she will file suit for a divorce from Charles S. Washburne, to whom she was married about two years ago. Mrs. Washburne resides at 413 St. James Place. Her son, who is nine months old, is with her.

The widely known vice crusader has been living apart from her husband, who is a newspaper man, since last April.

"Charlie is a splendid fellow," said Mrs. Washburne, of her husband, "but it is a case of incompatibility and there was nothing else for us to do. I think it is the best thing for both of us."

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS.

J. Emil Aufderheide is improving from a recent illness.

A son was born October 20 to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Topie, at Dudleytown.

Mrs. Gail Hopewell, who has been seriously ill at her home on North Chestnut street, is improving.

Jay C. Smith left this morning for Marion to attend a noon luncheon and conference of Indiana newspaper men. Mr. Jason Rogers, of the New York World, will be the principal speaker at the conference.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Love, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Willard Stout at Brownstown for six weeks, have gone to Pensacola, Fla., for future residence. Mr. and Mrs. Love formerly lived at Indianapolis but recently disposed of their property and other interests there. Mrs. Stout and Mrs. Love are sisters.

Fred Lambrecht, of St. Paul, Minn., who has been the guest of his nephew, the Rev. H. R. Booch, and family, for several days, has gone to West Baden for a ten days' rest before returning to his home. Mr. Lambrecht has traveled extensively and has crossed the ocean twenty-seven times. In July he obtained a passport signed by Secretary of State Lansing and intended to make another voyage to Germany but was prevented from doing so by the illness and recent death of Mrs. Lambrecht. He served four years in the Civil War in the Company G. Second Minn. Regiment of Volunteers and saw much active service in the South. He talks interestingly of his varied experiences and especially of voyages to Germany.

COL. STOGDILL SUFFERS BROKEN ARM IN FALL

Veteran Clerk at New Lynn Slips And Falls to Floor in Lobby of Hotel Today—Resting Easy.

Col. Simeon Stogdill, the veteran clerk at the New Lynn Hotel, suffered a broken arm this morning when he slipped and fell on the tile floor in the hotel lobby. The left arm was broken above the elbow. Col. Stogdill was removed to his room in the New Lynn Annex and is resting easy this afternoon. The injury, on account of his advanced age and enfeebled condition, is serious, but he expects to be out again in a few days.

Col. Stogdill was on duty this morning owing to the absence of W. P. Rooney, who is confined to his home on account of sickness, and in leaving the desk to walk across the lobby lost his balance and fell to the floor.

Numerous inquiries have come to the hotel today from Col. Stogdill's many friends regarding his condition.

cars. It was then too late to stop the machine, he said.

The occupants of the car are former Jackson county citizens, but are engaged in business at Indianapolis. John Mann and Ed Mann are brothers of K. D. Mann of this city.

A number of people gathered at the scene soon after the accident happened and offered assistance. As the space between the greenhouse and the railroad tracks is narrow the automobile might have been demolished had the driver not steered the machine as close to the building as he could.

Some Advantages

Offered by the

New Building and Loan Association

1. You may take stock any time you are ready.
2. Your account is kept individually,—that is, independent of any other account in the Association.
3. You can pay out your stock more rapidly than the regular rate of 25 cents per share per week if you wish to mature your stock in less than the regular time.
4. Dues paid in advance as much as six months or more will receive special credit in dividends.
5. Stock is now maturing in six years and six weeks, making the present cash cost to you $797.50 for every ten shares maturing at $1,000.00. Your profit is $202.50.
